Introduction

The return of the UN-weapons inspectors to Iraq, mid-November 2002, was only another phase in the continuing involvement of the United Nations Security Council with 'the situation between Iraq and Kuwait', as part of its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security. This involvement dates back to Iraq's occupation of Kuwait, in August 1990, the Gulf war in early 1991, and the aftermath of that war, in its efforts at enforcing the implementation of resolution 687, the 'Mother of all resolutions' on Iraq. By reproducing the politically most relevant parts of the resolutions, this publication contains a survey of the decision-making process of the Council, from 1990 onwards until the most recently adopted resolution 1441, on 13 November 2002, which established the terms for the resumption of the UN weapons inspections. Where, in the text of the resolutions, references were made to reports of the Secretary-General to the Security Council, the relevant parts of those documents have been reproduced as well.

This overview of the decisions by the Security Council on the Iraq-Kuwait issue is a follow-up to an earlier version which was published in 1995, as a part of a series of similar reviews on other conflict situations, such as the former Yugoslavia, Somalia, Rwanda, Haiti, etc.¹

I am indebted to Stella Beernink who did most of the work in preparing this document. We hope to provide politicians, policy-makers, academics, journalists, non-governmental organisations and other interested readers with a tool that contributes to a better accessibility of the decisions of the Security Council, in its dealings with an international crisis situation which, for so many years, has dominated the international political agenda.

Note by the President of the Security Council

(...) The Security Council is deeply disturbed by the Government of Iraq's recent Notes to the Office of the Special Commission in Baghdad and to the Headquarters of the United Nations Iraq/Kuwait Observation Mission (UNIKOM) that it will not allow the United Nations to transport its personnel into Iraq territory using its own aircraft. (...)

S/25081, 8 January 1993

Special report by the Secretary-General on the United Nations Iraq/Kuwait Observation Mission

Annex I

Letter dated 8 January 1993 from the President of the Security Council addressed to the Secretary-General

(...) The Members of the Council concur with the general approach outlined in your letter. They are particularly concerned at the continued presence of six Iraqi police posts on Kuwaiti territory and insist on their speedy removal, by 15 January at the latest. They also note the unsafe proximity to the boundary of three other Iraqi posts and two Kuwaiti police posts.

The Members (...) believe the presence of Iraqi military personnel in the demilitarized zone was a serious violation of resolution 687 (1991). They also consider that the removal of the Iraqi property and assets from Kuwait territory should be undertaken only after prior clearance by UNIKOM and by the Kuwaiti authorities through UNI-KOM and should be completed by 15 January 1993. (...) S/25085, 10 January 1993

(...) The Council condemns the action taken by Iraq on 10 January 1993 to remove equipment by force from the Kuwaiti side of the demilitarized zone without prior consultation with UNIKOM, and through UNIKOM with the Kuwaiti authorities, as set out in the letter of 8 January 1993 from the President of the Security Council to the Secretary-General. In particular, the Council draws attention to the removal by Iraq of four HY-26 anti-ship missiles and other military equipment from the six bunkers in the former Iraqi naval base at Umm Oasr on Kuwaiti territory, in spite of the objections of UNIKOM and their efforts to prevent this. This action is a direct challenge to the authority of UNIKOM and amounts to clear cut defiance by Iraq of the Council, which stipulated in the letter of 3 November 1992 from the President of the Council to the Secretary-General that the military equipment in the six bunkers should be destroyed by or under the supervision of UNIKOM. The Council demands that the anti-ship missiles and other military equipment removed by force from the six bunkers at Umm Qasr in Kuwaiti territory be returned immediately to the custody of UNIKOM for destruction, as previously decided.

(...) These latest developments concerning the activities of UNIKOM and UNSCOM constitute further material breaches of resolution 687 (1991), which established the cease-fire and provided the conditions essential for the restoration of peace and security in the region, as well as other relevant resolutions and agreements. The Council demands that Iraq cooperate fully with UNIKOM, UNSCOM and other United Nations agencies in carrying out their mandates, and again warns Iraq of the serious consequences that will flow from such continued defiance. The Council will remain actively seized of the matter.

Further special report of the Secretary-General on the United Nations Iraa/Kuwait Observation Mission (UNI-KOM)

5. UNIKOM thus performed the function for which it was designed and for which its strength is sufficient. If, however, the Security Council should decide that UNIKOM's present mandate does not permit an adequate response to such violations as have occurred and that UNIKOM should be able to prevent and redress them, then UNIKOM would require a capacity to take physical action. Such action could be taken to prevent or, if that fails, redress:

a) Small-scale violations of the DMZ:

b) Violations of the boundary between Iraq and Kuwait, for example by civilians or police; and

c) Problems that might arise from the presence of Iraqi installations and Iraqi citizens and their assets in the DMZ on the Kuwaiti side of the newly demarcated boundary.

The above tasks could not be performed by unarmed observers. In their place, UNIKOM would have to be provided with infantry in sufficient numbers. With regard to the third point, I should also recall my letter of 23 December 1992 (S/25085, Annex I) in which I brought to the Security Council's attention some issues arising from the demarcation of the boundary. These concerned the Iraqi police posts on Kuwaiti territory, whose urgent withdrawal I have been seeking and for which the Council has set the deadline of 15 January 1993, and the Iraqi citizens and their assets which remain on Kuwaiti territory.

10. UNIKOM would be provided with the weapons integral to its infantry battalions. It would not use its weapons except in self-defence, which would include resistance to attempts by forceful means to prevent it from discharging its duties under the mandate of the Security Council.

	Letter dated 22 February 1994 from the Secretary-General addressed to the President of the Security Council
	I have the honour to refer to my letter of 23 December 1992 to the President of the Security Council (S/25085) ().
	Encouraging developments have taken place for the resolution of this issue. All Iragi nationals in the Umm Qasr area were relocated without disturbances to other dwellings in Iraq by the end of December 1993. Kuwait has permitted the Iraqi nationals in the Al-Abdalv farming area to remain there until the end of February to allow them time to harvest their crops; they are to relocated to parcels of land in Iraq by 1 March 1994. ().
	As for the question of compensation () Kuwait agreed to pay into a trust fund, which I would establish for the purpose, an amount of compensation that I would decide, plus all costs and expenses incurred by the United Nations in connection with this effort. The money would be disbursed after I had made arrangements on the modalities of payment. However, should it not be possible to conclude payment arrangements to my satisfaction, it was also agreed that I would deposit the corresponding amount in an escrow account at the disposal of the beneficiaries. In that event, every effort would be made to inform the Iragi nationals of the steps they should take to claim their compensation.
	(), I have now decided that the total amount of the compensation shall be 56 million Iraqi dinars for 95 farms and 15.5 million Iraqi dinars for 206 residential houses. ().

Annex Statement dated 10 October 1994 by the Minister for Foreign Affairs of Iraq to the Iraqi News Agency () and since it has become clear to all that security and stability in the region cannot be achieved as long as sanctions continue to be imposed on Iraq and its people are made to suffer, and that mutual understanding, the lifting of the sanctions and respect for Iraq's rights constitute the only valid way for every party in the region to work according to its size, influence, capacity and creative ability to achieve peace and security in the region; in view of these facts and in response to the requests made by a number of friends, and without calling in question Iraq's right to sovereignty and freedom of action within its national territory, it has been decided to redeploy the aforementioned units to different positions in the rear in order to complete the planned exercises. We hope that the diplomatic efforts mentioned by friends and by most members of the international community will produce tangible results in the form of a lifting of sanctions and the affirmation of Iraq's legitimate rights. This Administration and its collaborators in the region, particularly the rulers of Kuwait, are determined to prolong the embargo as long as they can in order to kill the largest number possible of Iraqis through the policy of starvation and deprivation. Report of the Secretary-General

Introduction

4. In order to enable the Special Commission as well as IAEA to discharge their responsibilities properly, a number of technical arrangements are being made to facilitate their work. They include the establishment of a field operations office and a support office. After consultations with the Governments concerned, the Field Operations Office is being set up in Bahrain. The Office will become fully operational by the end of May 1991. The Support Office is being established at Baghdad, Iraq.

5. The provisions of section C of resolution 687 (1991) lend themselves to a three-stage implementation procedure: gathering and assessment of information; disposal of weapons and facilities and all other items specified in paragraphs 8 and 12 of resolution 687 (1991); and monitoring and verification of Iraq's compliance in the future.

Letter dated 13 November 2002 from the Minister for Foreign Affairs of Iraq addressed to the Secretary-General

[] Sir,

[The US and Tony Blair] spread the rumour that Iraq might have produced or might have been on the way to producing nuclear weapons during the period since 1998 in which the international inspectors were absent. They later asserted that Iraq had indeed produced chemical and biological weapons []

Iraq confronted them with its consent to the return of the international inspectors after agreeing with you, as representative of the United Nations in New York, on 16 September 2002, and in a press statement issued iointly in Vienna on 30 September/1 October 2002 by [] Amer Al-Saadi, Chief Inspector Hans Blix and Mohamed ElBaradei []. Yet a few hours after Iraq's consent to the return of the inspectors became an established fact, including agreement on 19 October 2002 as the date of their arrival, Colin Powell, the American Secretary of State, declared that he would refuse to have the inspectors go to Iraq.

Although we are aware that, following the widely known understanding between the representatives of Iraq and the Secretary-General and the press statement issued by Blix, El Baradei and the representatives of Iraq, there are no facts or principles of justice and fairness to necessitate the adoption of that resolution in the name of the Security Council, we hereby inform you that we will deal with resolution 1441 (2002), despite its iniquitous contents, even though it is to be implemented against the background of the intentions harboured by those of bad faith. V. Recommendations

d) In response to the request to the Secretary-General to find a method for taking account of the costs of transportation of Iraqi petroleum and petroleum products, it is suggested that the transportation costs payable to Turkey be met in cash or kind. For this purpose, the Secretary-General considers that an additional amount of oil be permitted to be exported from Iraq over and above the quantity necessary to meet the requirements of resolution 706 (1991). (...) The value of any such oil is to be subject to the requirement that 30 per cent of its value should be paid directly to the Compensation Fund.

58. In accordance with the basic structure set out in section IV of the present report, the Secretary-General recommends the following specific measures for implementing the relevant provisions of resolution 706 (1991) in a manner that would effectively promote and satisfy the objectives and purposes of the resolution:

a) Iraq, through its oil authority, SOMO, will market and sell the petroleum, f.o.b. Ceyhan;b) Every contract must include the following terms:

(i) The contract enters into force only after it has received the approval of the Committee established by resolution 661 (1990), following notification to the Committee by the State in which the purchaser is based;
(ii) The full proceeds from the sale of petroleum are to be deposited by the purchaser into the escrow account established by the United Nations and administered by the Secretary-General, in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations;

(iii) The purchaser must open a letter of credit for each transaction providing for payment into the United Nations escrow account;
(iv) The oil will be shipped via the Kirkuk-Yumurtalik pipeline from Iraq to Turkey;
c) The Security Council Committee established by resolution 661 (1990) will have blished by resolution 661 (1990) will have ultimate responsibility for monitoring the sale of Iraqi oil. (...);

d) The Committee (...) should adopt procedures by which approval of each contract can be obtained promptly. Submissions for approval to the Committee can be made only by the Government of the State of the purchaser concerned. (...);

e) Inspection agents will be appointed by the United Nations to ensure that the quantity and quality of oil delivered accords with the contract terms and that no oil is delivered without the requisite approval. (...);
f) The purchaser will open a letter of credit.

issued by a reputable bank engaged in international banking, for each transaction providing for payment into the United Nations escrow account;

g) Explicit language should be included in the Security Council resolution approving the present report setting forth the immunity of the oil. Iraq should be required, in the same resolution, to take all steps necessary to accord immunity to the oil. Additionally, Turkey should be called upon by the resolution to ensure that, while in Turkish jurisdiction, the oil will not be subjected to legal proceedings;

h) The escrow account should be set up as an United Nations account and as such will be fully protected by the immunities of the United Nations. (...);

i) Purchases of the supplies to meet humanitarian needs in Iraq will be undertaken by Iraq. Monitoring of the purchases and deliveries will be undertaken by the Secretariat with the assistance of United Nationsappointed inspection agents;

i) The Office of the Executive Delegate will receive a list of humanitarian requirements from Iraq and, after revising the list, if necessary, submit it to the Committee (...) for approval;

k) The Committee (...) should adopt procedures for approving the submitted list. (...);
l) Inspection agents appointed by the United Nations will evaluate, verify and monitor every element of the transaction up to entry points to Iraq. (...);

m) Movements of goods to designated centres and commencement of in-country distribution will be arranged by the government agencies concerned, which will notify the Office of the Executive Delegate of the proposed distribution of incoming consignments in order to enable the United Nations agencies to put in place effective monitoring arrangements;

n) Monitoring of in-country distribution will be undertaken in accordance with the proposals submitted by the Executive Delegate of the Secretary-General on 27 August 1991, (...);

Annex Report to the Secretary-General dated 15 July 1991 on humanitarian needs in Iraq pre- pared by a mission led by Sadruddin Aga Khan, Executive Delegate of the Secretary- General 31. It is evident that the Iraqi Government itself will have to revise its priorities and mo- bilize all internal resources. It will also have to finance the import of the type of materials under discussion, for which it has already requested approval from the Security Council Committee established by resolution 661 (1990). It certainly appeared that the Iraqi Government has the potential itself to genera- te the funds required to cover the needs identified by the team. This could be done either by the unfreezing of substantial amounts of Iraqi assets now held abroad or through the pumping and subsequent inter- national sale of oil. The mission was infor- med that foreign exchange reserves of only $US 14.75 million were on hand in the central bank and that the Government's hol- ding of gold bullion in support of the national currency had remained constant for the last 20 years. 32. With respect to the possible sale of oil by the Iraqi Government to finance such im- ports, paragraph 23 of Security Council resolution 687 (1991) empowers the Security Council Committee established by resolution 661 (1990) to approve exceptions to the prohibition against the import of com- modities and products originating in Iraq, with the explicit purpose of assuring "ade- quate financial resources" on the part of the Iraqi Government to produce medicine and health supplies, foodstuffs and materials and supplies for "essential civilian needs". Annex II: Commissions established pursuant to resolution 687³

By its resolution 687 (1991) the Security Council established the terms and conditions for a formal cease-fire between Iraq and Kuwait and the member states cooperating with Kuwait. In accordance with the terms of the resolution three commissions were established: the UN Special Commission (UNSCOM), the UN Compensation Commission and the UN Iraq/Kuwait Boundary Demarcation Commission (which has since concluded its work).

The UN Iraq-Kuwait Observation Mission (UNIKOM): with the mandate to monitor the Khawr 'Abd Allah waterway between Iraq and Kuwait and the demilitarized zone (DMZ) extending 10 kilometres (6 miles) into Iraq and 5 kilometres (3 miles) into Kuwait; to deter violations of the boundary through its presence in and surveillance of the DMZ; and to observe any hostile or potentially hostile action mounted from the territory of one State to the other. The mandate was later strengthened to enable UNIKOM to take action to prevent or redress small-scale violations of the DMZ, violations of the boundary between Iraq and Kuwait, and problems that might arise from the presence of Iraqi installations and Iraqi citizens and their assets in the DMZ or on the Kuwaiti side of the newly demarcated boundary.

UN Special Commission: Section C of Security Council resolution 687 deals, inter alia, with the elimination, under international supervision, of Iraq's weapons of mass destruction and ballistic missiles with a range greater than 150 km, together with the related items and facilities. The resolution recommended the establishment of a special commission to implement these provisions. UNSCOM is now based at UN Headquarters, New York.

UN Compensation Commission: By resolution 687, the Security Council reaffirmed that Iraq "is liable under International Law for any direct loss, damage, including environmental damage and the depletion of natural resources, or injury to foreign Governments, nationals and corporations, as a result of Iraq's unlawful invasion and occupation of Kuwait".

By resolution 692, the Security Council decided to establish a fund to compensate for claims which fell within these categories and to establish a commission to administer the fund. The principal organ of the Commission is the 15 member Governing Council, which is composed of representatives of the current members of the Security Council. The United Nations Security Council is tasked with ensuring payments are made to the fund by Iraq and evaluating losses, allocating funds and paying claims.

The Iraq-Kuwait Boundary Demarcation Commission: To demarcate the international boundary set out in the "Agreed Minutes between the State of Kuwait and the Republic of Iraq regarding the Restoration of Friendly Relations, Recognition and Related Matters", signed by them on 4 October 1963 and registered with the United Nations. The Commission consisted of five members: three independent experts appointed by the Secretary-General and one representative each of Iraq and Kuwait appointed by their respective Governments. The Commission concluded its work and submitted its final report to the Secretary-General on 20 May 1993.

The Security Council's Sanctions Committee: established by resolution 661 (1990), monitors the prohibitions against the sale or supply of arms to Iraq and related sanctions set out in resolution 687 (1991), in accordance with the approved guidelines, and reports to the Council at 90-day intervals. Resolutions 706 (1991) and 712 (1991) assigned additional monitoring tasks to the Committee.

Resolutions of the United Nations Security Council and Statements by its President concerning the Situation between Iraq and Kuwait (2 August 1990 - 16 November 1994), DPI/1104/Rev.5 (New York 1994).
