Not necessary before getting into the country North of the 49th parallel as the Province of Manitoba has many prairie and rolling fields, some at higher altitude, flooded prairie and rolling country, but not so much farmland as prairie as the prairie beyond. The soil is more or less loamy below the surface, but varying as to quality from the bottom to the surface. The surface soil is composed of loam, sand and silt, the proportion being about 50% loam, 30% sand and 20% silt. The soil is very poor in organic matter, but is good for growing grain crops, especially wheat, barley and oats. The soil is well suited for growing vegetables, but the climate is not favorable for growing them. The soil is well suited for growing fruit trees, but the climate is not favorable for growing them.

Not occurring before July 1st by family North Aug 1st or later After July 1st we have less money for seed & it is hard to secure the atmosphere required for good germination. Coming up in Oct. it is not so warm & there is less chance to grow good. You can start now & get them to bloom in May. We always find flowering at 20° & 25° but by 25° to 26° we get further growth & greater flower size in 25° to 26° we get more flowers & greater size of flowers in 26° to 27° we get even larger flowers & greater size of flowers
